THE ENTOURAGE EFFECT

The entourage effect is the concept that various compounds in the hemp plant work best when synergistically together, rather than being isolated. When this orchestration of compounds interacts harmoniously, this promotes a more impactful health result.

The endocannabinoid system (ECS) is a vast signaling network of receptors that resides in all mammals. Present in and connected to the body's organs, glands, and tissues, the ECS regulates many physiological and cognitive body processes. Poor lifestyle and diet, exposure to toxins, and internal and external stressors can drastically imbalance the body. By activating your body's receptors, your ECS helps create ideal homeostasis within the mind and body.

Like a biological key, the nutrients from RECEPT's phytocannabinoids and terpenes interact organically with the ECS, boosting its effectiveness and helping to revitalize and maintain optimal well-being.

HOW CANNABIGEROL (CBG) CHANGES EVERYTHING...

Having a direct effect on the ECS and cannabinoid receptors, CBG provides a wealth of benefits, including its neuroprotection and neuroregeneration traits. A precursor or parent compound to many other phytocannabinoids like CBD and THC, CBG's potential effects on health and wellness have only begun to be tapped.

We take careful and complex steps to extract CBG for its use as a central ingredient during the formulation process of RECEPT.

BENEFITS OF CBG

- Completes the entourage effect
- Contains anti-bacterial properties
- Promotes neuro-regeneration/protection
- Supports bone health
- Improves mood & gut health
- Supports rest & sleep
- Promotes Natural Analgesic (discomfort relief)

FASTER ACTING, LONGER LASTING.

The health benefits of RECEPT's phytocannabinoids and terpenes are driven by a powerful nano-sonicated liposomal delivery method.

Using Sonicated Nano Technology, RECEPT's active ingredients are compressed into ultra-fine-sized liposomes that easily absorb into the bloodstream, transport across cell membranes and begin interacting with cells, cannabinoid receptors, and the ECS within moments after dosing.

BEFORE SONICATION

AFTER SONICATION

RECEPT's sonicated nanoparticles average between 15 to 25 nM (nanometers) in size—roughly the length of an antibody protein. This tiny nanoparticle range accelerates RECEPT's activation time and prolongs its therapeutic effects on the brain and body.

A safer and more natural approach to liposomal delivery, RECEPT's ingredients are ethanol free. Sonicated Nano-Technology is the next evolution in hemp extract delivery!
